

Dementia fact cards

1. Print out this page in colour onto card and cut around the dotted lines
2. Fold each card in half so they stand up
3. Pop them on the table for your guests to read so they can learn more about dementia and understand the impact it has in the UK and worldwide

A person's risk of developing dementia rises from 1 in 14 over the age of 65, to 1 in 6 over the age of 80.

A person's risk of developing dementia rises from 1 in 14 over the age of 65, to 1 in 6 over the age of 80.

This year 209,600 people will develop dementia. That's one every 3 minutes.

This year 209,600 people will develop dementia. That's one every 3 minutes.

There are over 42,000 people under 65 years old living with dementia in the UK.

There are over 42,000 people under 65 years old living with dementia in the UK.

It is estimated that by 2030 there will be 79 million living with dementia globally and 139 million by 2050.

It is estimated that by 2030 there will be 79 million living with dementia globally and 139 million by 2050.

7.1% of all people over the age of 65 have dementia.

7.1% of all people over the age of 65 have dementia.

5.2% of people over the age of 60 are living with dementia globally.

5.2% of people over the age of 60 are living with dementia globally.

