

The Sugar & Ronson Campus

OPENING SUMMER 2026

JEWISH CARE

01 Welcome

We are excited to introduce The Sugar & Ronson Campus, a landmark development that will transform the way we support our community across North East London and Essex. This first-class campus will bring together all local Jewish Care and Jami services under one roof, offering support for people of all ages in one inclusive and welcoming space.

At the heart of the campus will be the 66-bed Sugar Family Care Home, thoughtfully designed to provide comfort, dignity, and quality care for older people. Just below it, the vibrant Ronson Community Centre will serve as the campus hub, offering a variety of activities, a friendly café, a meaty restaurant and spaces to connect, relax and enjoy.

The site will also include The Dennis Centre, a dedicated and private area specially designed for people living with dementia. Every detail of this space has been carefully considered to meet the unique needs of our members and to offer a safe, nurturing environment.

In addition, the campus will be home to a range of vital services, including our social work and community support teams, a Meals on Wheels hub, and Jami's community hub, providing tailored support for mental health and wellbeing.

This modern, sustainable development is built to the highest environmental standards, with an excellent BREEAM rating, reflecting our commitment to responsible energy use, reduced carbon emissions, and efficient resource management.

To help everyone feel at home, the campus will proudly feature displays of traditional Jewish objects and beloved memorabilia from Sinclair House, offering a meaningful connection to the community's shared heritage and history.

More than just a care facility, The Sugar & Ronson Campus will be a vibrant, inclusive community where everyone feels secure, engaged and truly at home. We look forward to welcoming you.

03 The Sugar Family Care Home

The Sugar Family Care Home is a purpose-built, 66-bed residence spread across three thoughtfully designed floors. It will offer a true 'home from home' experience where comfort, accessibility and well-being come first. Each floor features its own welcoming dining and kitchen area, serving tasty and nutritious kosher meals. There will also be bright, comfortable lounges where residents can relax, socialise and take part in daily activities. In a quiet corner of every floor, cosy seating areas with panoramic views across the green belt provide a peaceful setting for more private, meaningful moments with family and visitors.

Designed with accessibility in mind, the building includes level flooring throughout to support ease of movement, particularly for those with mobility challenges. The home will offer high-quality nursing, residential and dementia care, along with respite and short-term stays (subject to availability) for those recovering from illness or in need of temporary 24-hour support.

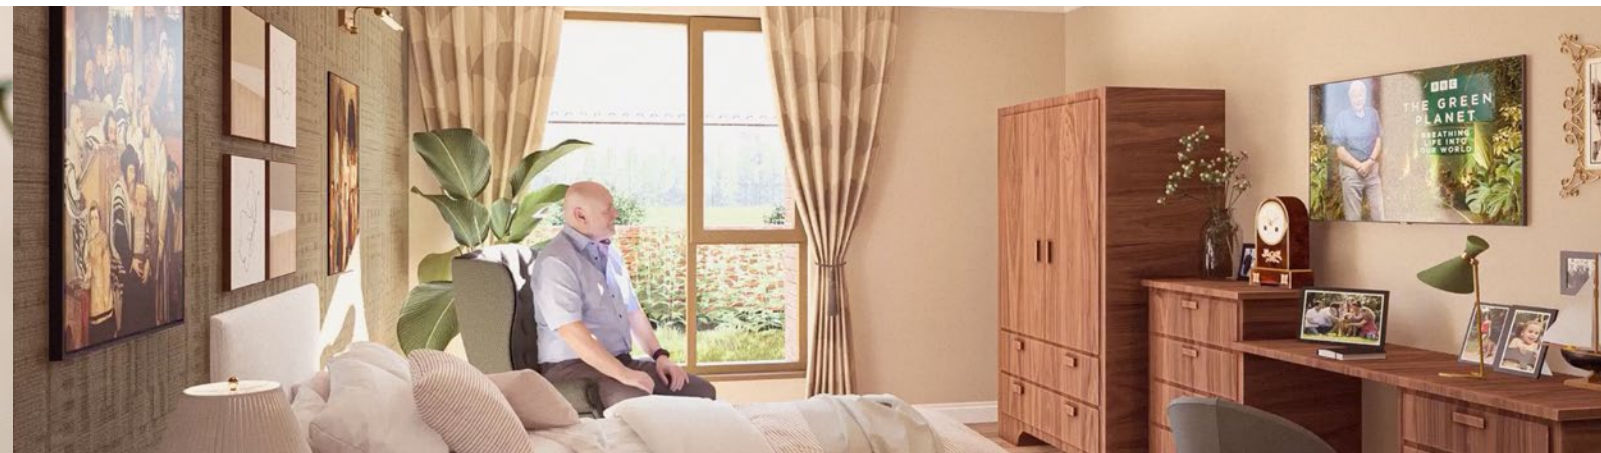

Personalised care is at the heart of everything we do. Our experienced, compassionate teams create tailored care plans that reflect each resident's individual needs, preferences and routines, including sensitive, person-centred end-of-life care when needed.

Rooted in our proud Jewish heritage, the home will include dedicated synagogue services and offer fully licensed kosher meals, ensuring spiritual and cultural needs are respected and celebrated.

In partnership with Park Grove and acclaimed interior designer Lori, the interiors have been created to be both stylish and supportive, incorporating dementia-friendly features that promote orientation and ease. A carefully chosen high-contrast colour scheme enhances visibility, helping residents with visual impairments to navigate the space with confidence.
